THE RALEIGH NEWS

VOL. XIV—NO. 105. RALEIGH, N. C. SATURDAY MORNING JANUARY 4, 1879. $5.00 PER ANNUM

Rev. T. J. Gattis, one of the best men in this sinful world, was handsomely "pounded" by his congregation Christmas night.

A friend in Davie county is bothered. He puts this conundrum: "Did Judge Merrimon write that letter, and what was in it? It is no time for evasion or suppression. 'Turn on the light."

The Legisture meets on the first Wednesday in January. Ballotting for United States Senator begins on the second Tuesday thereafter, to wit: the 21st, and not the 16th, as printed in the Charlotte Observer and other State papers.

The report has got abroad that Mr. Merrimon's friends will be excluded from the caucus. His threatening aspect of the senatorial contest is entirely without foundation. A love feast rather than a combat is more likely over such an event.

It begins to appear very doubtful whether the order of Secretary Sherman for the reorganization of the secret service division of the Treasury Department will save it. The appropriation committee does not seem inclined to insert the usual sum from which this force is paid.

There are only eight States in the Union where the postal service pays its way, and half of them are in New England—New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Michigan—the next surplus of revenue from these States being over $2,530,000.

THE New Orleans mint will begin the coinage of standard dollars in a week or two. Preparations are being made to purchase large lots of Mexican and trade dollars. This will necessarily introduce a large amount of foreign silver into the country. The purchases are to be made in lots of 10,000 ounces.

Gen. Trevino of the regular Mexican army arrived at Galveston, Texas, Monday night, accompanied by his staff officers, Gen. Ord, commanding the department of Texas, other American officers, citizens of Mexico and San Antonio, Tex., and was received by citizens and military committees. A salute of 15 guns was fired.

Texas expects to gain 15 representatives in Congress after the next census, but Senator Maxey says that 99 voters out of every hundred are opposed to a division of the State, their aspiration being to make of Texas a great commonwealth, bearing the same relation to the South that New York does to the East.

A western correspondent suggests that perhaps the Charlotte Observer is in error in supposing the Republicans in the Legislature will unite on Canaday for the Senate. At least two Republican Senators elect are pledged to vote for Merrimon, to wit: Everett, of Forsythe, and Brown, of Surry. Taken collectively they would hardly make one good Republican, and it may be that they will seek admission into the Democratic caucus.

The following States have no public debt: Colorado, Delaware, Kentucky, West Virginia and Wisconsin. California, Illinois, Kansas, Michigan, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, Oregon and Verment have small State debts, and have them secured by sinking funds. Massachusetts' State debt at the beginning of this year was $33,200,000, of which $11,000,000 could be paid by her sinking fund. Pennsylvania has a debt of $23,000,000, and a sinking fund of $9,000,000. New York's debt is now all paid but $9,000,000, which she owes for her canal.

Considerable interest, and some denunciation, has been aroused by Cyrus W. Field's proposal to mark Major Andre's grave with a memorial of some sort, but he says that he only intends setting up a stone to enable visitors to find the place. A letter is published signed by descendants of Revolutionary patriots, in which the signers declare their intention to raze any such monument to the ground with three months after its erection. This is rather misplaced patriotism, since Andre was a gallant fellow, and a loving, and these traits merit recognition the world over.

SOME time during the week the legislature of Maine will elect a governor to serve ensuing year. Upon the state senate, which has a Radical majority, the selection will devolve, the choice being narrowed down, however, to the late Democratic and greenback candidates for the office, whose names will be sent up from the house. The action of the senate is loked for with considerable interest, as it will demonstrate whether the Radical managers are willing to go back upon their alleged hard-money principles for the sake of spiting the democratic party by defeating its candidate in an equal fight.

Quite a flutter has been caused among the lawyers of St. Louis by the opinion of the Missouri Supreme Court that the whole 700 of them are as clearly liable to taxation as merchants, hucksters or auctioneers, and must pay their annual license fee of $25 like men. The city ordinance establishing the tax went into effect in September, 1877, and the local court decided that the lawyers must pay, but the court of appeals reversed the judgment only to have the first decision and the constitutionality of the ordinance finally affirmed by the highest court in the State. Lawyers in good practice pay their fees and accept the legality of the tax, but there is considerable squirming among the shysters, for whom $25 is too much to part with readily.

The N. Y. Sun gives strong reasons for its opinion that the New Year will usher in a new era of mercantile activity. It says: We are told by acute observers that commercial crises are periodic; that there is a tide in business, which usually takes about ten years to rise and fall. In this credit cycle the period of depression, according to Stanley Jevons, seldom lasts more than two or three years, after which experienced capitalists begin to forget their failures, and a fresh contingent of younger men commence to take part in affairs. In our case not three years only but more than a lustrum has elapsed since the panic of 1873. It is time, we may conclude, for a healthful current to set in; for hopelessness to spread itself through our trades and occupations. Let us trust, however, the infusion of new and sanguine blood may be tempered by the right admixture of hard sense and sober forecast, and thus launch the productive and industrial forces of the country on a long career of fruitful energy and auspicious enterprise."

The people of the Pacific Coast have for years made things unpleasant for the patient and industrious Chinese, who have certainly the merit of being never idle, and now the Californians propose to cook John Chinaman's goose very thoroughly indeed. The constitutional Convention has finally taken John's case in hand, and an article has been prepared which, if ratified by popular vote, must cause an exodus of the persecuted Celestials, either eastward to less inhospitable States or back to the Flowery Kingdom. The points of this new legal ban which it is sought to put upon the race are conditions of residence which, if transgressed, may be punished by expulsion, prohibition of employment by corporations, exclusion from labor on public works, prohibition of the privileges of fishing and holding realestate, and finally they are not to be allowed to enter the State anyway, and those already in it are to be banished.

GEORGE Washington thought dancing was an "agreeable and innocent amusement." The following autograph letter in print the first time in last weeks, Philadelphia Progress, was written a few days before his death.

MOUNT VERNON, Nov. 12th, 1799.

GENT'N!

Mrs. Washington and myself have been honored with your polite invitation to the Assemblies in Alexandria this winter; and thank you for this mark of your attention—but alas! our dancing days are no more. We wish, however, all those whose relish for so agreeable and innocent an amusement, all the pleasure the same may afford them—and I am

Gent'n!

Your most obedient & obliged humble servant,
GEO. WASHINGTON.

"GATH," the "stalwart" liar of the American press, has at last told the truth. Our new year's wish, most heartily entertained is, that he may survive it. He writes about North Carolina in the Cincinnati Enquirer. He says:

"North Carolina public men have the best opportunity in the South to reach high political places, owing to the superior docility of the State, which has furnished to the Union three Presidents, Jackson, Polk and Johnson, and others as distinguished as the stock of Benton and Farragut. Tennessee, which is the Ohio of the South, takes origin and character from North Carolina. In North Carolina was captured one of the two great armies of the Confederacy; her representation in Congress since the war has been the best behaved and least recriminating from the South. A dexterous and able politician who could put this State with the North in the next Presidential contest would make her the most powerful political community in the South."

THE Cincinnati Enquirer has located "another horrible murder" in North Carolina. This time it occurred in Watauga county. It says:

"James B. Martin, an upright young man and a famous amateur musician, was spending the afternoon at Major Harrison Osborne's. While he was entertaining the lady members of Osborne's family with a performance on the violin the Major came in; he was tight and a little quarrelsome. The tune being rendered was 'Grandfather's Clock.' 'Play faster,' said Osborne. 'Never mind,' said Martin, 'I am playing all right. What do you know about music, any how?' 'I will show you what I know,' said Osborne, and with that drew a revolver and fired three times, each ball taking effect in the fiddler's head. As the first ball struck him he exclaimed, 'Lord, Osborne, you have killed me!' Mrs. Osborne, who was a witness of the bloody deed, tried to prevent it, but her entreaties were of no avail. The murderer fled for parts unknown."

THE news comes from Washington that solicitor General Philips is to be investigated for saying in a legal opinion that "said" meant "such," by which elastic construction the Blaine outrage committee realized from the Treasury $20,000.

THE carpet-bagger who can speak of his adopted State without slandering its people and institutions deserves honorable mention. Keogh, the head and tail of what is left of the Republican party in the State, in a recent interview with "Gath," of the Cincinnati Enquirer, said:

"North Carolina will be the first State in the South to go voluntarily Republican. The Democrats in our State have no sympathy with the rifle-club business, and 'dividing the time' of the South Carolina Democrats. I went there from a Western State, am well treated, and like the people and the country. It has the most forbearing and Christian population of the South. The Lowery band, which you went to Scuffletown and Lumberton to write up, have all been killed. That long series of tragedies grew out of the excesses and recriminations of the war. The mines of North Carolina are coming up handsomely, and our railway system is nearly completed. We will be the next State to get a railroad across the mountains to the West."

Liverpool Cotton Brokers' Circular.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 3.—This week's circular of the Liverpool Cotton Brokers' Association says: "In cotton there was a fair business the past week and for several descriptions prices advanced. For American, the demand was good, three-sixteenths in the better grades and a farthing in lower. In Sea Island there was fair business, at steady prices. Futures opened strong, an eighth advance was gained on Friday. A quieter tone has since prevailed but improvement is generally maintained.

Scotch Snows and French Freshets.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—A Dundee correspondent, writing last night, says a fresh snow storm has commenced in Scotland, falling heavily, and it is not unlikely that there will be a renewal of the railway blockade in the north. The frost is as keen as ever and the air piercingly cold. All out-door labor, which had been partially resumed, has again been interrupted.

A Paris correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says the rivers continue to rise in consequence of the rapid thaw, the Rhone and Loire being among the rivers principally affected. The Aube has overflowed its banks in the direction of Nogent.

BOSTON LETTER.

The Merry Christmas and its Celebration—Oratorio of the Messiah—Something for the Ladies.

BOSTON, Dec. 27, 1878.

Correspondence of the News.

Once upon a time, it was against the law in Mass. to celebrate Christmas even by obtaining from ordinary work, or eating an extraordinary pudding for dinner. If you don't believe this statement, just let me quote verbatum et literatim from the Ancient Charter of Massachusetts, page 119, the act imposing a "penalty for keeping Christmas." But you must not criticize our forefathers' spelling, and for "u" you must often read "v," in order to comprehend the meaning. The law was passed in 1651 and was good till 1692.

"For preventing disorders arising in several places within this jurisdiction by reason of some still observing such festivals as were superstitiously kept in other countries in the dishonor of God and offence of others, it is ordered by this court and the authority thereof, that whosoever shall be found observing any such day as Christmas or the like, either by forbearing of labor, feasting or any other way, upon any such accounts as aforesaid, every person so offending shall pay for every such offence five shillings as a fine to the county."

In these days of modern civilization, however, in the Bay State is the holiday of the year. Birthday presents have gone out, because everybody gives all they can afford in Chrismas presents, and New Year's Day is scarcely observed at all with us, while even the fiery Fourth of July pales before the stronger light of the glorious December holiday.

Not only is Christmas celebrated to a very elaborate degree in private, but there are certain public ceremonies which have come to be as much part and parcel of the day as the stockings themselves, chief among these in the regular annual performance of the oratorio of the "Messiah" by the Handel and Haydn Society. For about seventy years, the Messiah has been given at the Christmas season, almost ever since the foundation of the celebrated society itself. This year, as always, the great Music Hall was thronged, every seat and inch of standing-room being filled. No Boston audience the year round is so enthusiastic; they applaud certain favorite choruses with as much vim as the best solos, and when the grand "Hallelujah" chorus is given, the whole house rises with one one accord, audience, soloists and all, to do honor to it. Some disappointment was felt that Mr. Myron Whitney, the favorite basso, was prevented from appering, but his place was very well filled by Mr. John F. Winch. The contralto soloist was very acceptable, too, yet the oratorio-goers yearned for the days when Parepa-Rosa, Adelaide Phillips, and Whitney used to roll out the gorgeous music of this superb work.

But the chorus and orchestra were never in better trim, and Mr. Carl Zerrahn, the famous conductor of the Peace Jubilees, led the combination of 500 voices and 50 instuments so easily and gracefully that it seemed a marvel. Mr. Zerrahn's tall imposing figure is greatly to his advantage, and the almost worship with which the chorus regard him, makes it much easier than it would otherwise be for him to control them. It is seldom that he raises his left hand at all, the little baton in his right and an occasional motion of the head being amply sufficient to mark the time in even the Messiah's flowery fugues.

But I must use the last bit of space in this letter, to give the ladies a little piece of information which may please them, viz: How they may make themselves some handsome jewelry and with little knowledge of flower painting, either in oil or water colors, you may make yourself any number of lovely sets to match different toilettes. Get a number of lozenge-shaped wooden lockets; on one side cover them neatly with silk of any chosen color, and then paint a delicate little cluster of flowers on each. Sew a tiny ring to largest one, and suspend it from a ribbon of black velvet, on which glue a number of the smaller ones, thus forming a beautiful necklet. Two smaller ones should be supplied with gold wires to answer as earrings.

TRIMONTAINE.

CHAPEL HILL, Jan. 1.

Some new families are coming to our village.

The Medical School established here for the accommodation of University students and others who wish to take a course in medicine, has opened with good prospect of success.

The Eligibility of Chinamen as Citizens.

Courier Journal.

The Supreme Court of the United States will, in the course of the next year, have to decide upon the question of the eligibility or ineligibility of Chinamen to American citizenship. Ten or twelve Chinamen have voted during the last few years, and one was naturalized in New York recently, for the purpose of making a test case for the Supreme Court to grapple with. The Californians appear to be positively desperate in view of the possibility that John will be formally admitted to the sacred rights of American citizenship, but we prophesy that if the Supreme Court decides him eligible the Chinaman, as a factor in elections, will receive the most kindly attentions on the Pacific coast.

Coinage at the Philadelphia Mint.

The total coinage at the United States Mint for the pear just closing was as follows: 22,754,389 pieces, valued at $25,226,278 50. Of this amount there were: Double eagles, 543 645; eagles, 78,800; half eagles, 131,740; three dollars, 82,324; quarter eagles, 286,260; dollars (gold) 3020; silver, 10,200,550; trade dollars, 1,374,400; quarter dollars, 2,260,800; 20-cent pieces, 600; dimes, 1,678,800, 5-cent pieces, 2350; 3-cent pieces, 2350; cents, 5,799,850.

Our Commerce Killing Navigation Laws.

Courier Journal.

That the law has not benefited American shipbuilders is evident from the fact that the business has, from being one of great magnitude, dwindled down to comparative insignificance, and is now in the hands of a few iron shipbuilding firms on the Delaware, whose business is exceedingly limited. The effect of our shipping laws is seen in the fact that we pay about one hundred millions every year to foreign ship-owners to do our freighting for us, and the sum and substance of the business that these stupid laws "deprive American ships and sailors of employment," while by their repeal they would get an abundance of employment. Capitalists hesitate to invest their money in lines of American-built ships, because of the enormous expense, and because, owing to our protective tariff, they cannot get the trade which would pay them, because it goes to Europe under more favorable circumstances. The effect of our shipping laws is this: In 1877 England had 3,133 steamers, gross tonnage 3,283,910. In 1878 she has 3,216 steamers, gross tonnage 3,465,187. The United States had in 1877, 542 steamers, gross tonnage 674,036. We have 516 steamers this year, gross tonnage 639,101. Here is a decrease of our tonnage, and there has been a decrease for a number of a number of years. It appears, therefore, that the retention of our shipping laws deprives both American ships and American sailors of employment, and the only thing Congress can do to bring relief is to repeal the barbaric statutes.

The Coming Convention of Northern Men Residing South.

Courier Observer.

Widespread publicity continues to be given to the meeting of Northern men now residing in the South, which meeting is to be held in this city on the 15th inst., and Mr. Dumont already has assurances that at least one hundred delegates will be in attendance. He has received a great number of letters, all of the same general tenor: expressive of the thorough sympathy of the writers with the movement on foot, and pledging attendance if possible.

Liberal arrangements have been made with all the railroad lines converging in this city and with several having connections with roads which reach Charlotte. The Carolina Central, Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio and Spartanburg & Asheville Railroads will convey delegates both ways free of charge; the Richmond & Danville, Atlanta & Charlotte Air-Line, and Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta roads will carry delegates the round trip for one first-class fare.

As a matter of course it is entirely impossible for Mr. Dumont to communicate with all the Northern men residing in those Southern States which it is proposed to interest particularly, and he trusts that none of those who have been omitted in the sending out of circulars will feel themselves slighted. The invitation to attend this convention is general to all Northern men, of whatever occupation, politics, religion or sentiment of any kind, who have settled in the South at any time since the war, and it is hoped that every one who sees or hears of the call will feel himself personally invited.

To the end that the widest possible circulation may be given to this movement—a movement which is of very great practical importance to the whole Southern States—we ask our brethren of the press to keep it before their readers by statements, in as brief terms as they choose, of the object of the proposed convention, together with a mention of the day on which it is to be held.

Victimizing the Negroes.

Courier Journal.

The victimized colored depositors of the Freedmen's Bank are very difficult material for philanthropic (?) Republicans to work upon. About half the original depositors died without getting back a cent of the money stolen from them by their Republican friends, and the other half can hardly be conciliated by the fact that the "Commission" appointed to settle up the affairs of the broken bank and save the fragments of the wreck has absorbed $319,000 for "expenses" since the inception of the work of "saving the poor black man's money." When the Republicans howl about the "oppressed negro" they neglect to refer to this infernal Freedmen's Bank outrage, which was perpetrated exclusively by patriotic Republicans.

The Whipping Post.

Charlotte Observer.

We insist upon the Legislature, now soon to meet, that it give us more prompt execution of the Criminal laws and more summary modes of punishment for minor offences. The keeping of prisoners is a burden to our people, and as far as possible, ought to be gotten rid of. Let a rascal steal a pair of shoes, a hat, or any other article, no matter how trifling, and he is arrested and put in jail, where he may remain for months, and from one term of the court to another, all the time being fed at a cost to the tax-payer, to say nothing of medical attention, etc. Finally he is tried, at another heavy expense for jurors and other etceteras, and should he be convicted, is sent to the penitentiary at another expense, then hired out, and perhaps escapes long before his term of service expires, and seeks other pastures in which to ply his vocation. Thus the ends of justice are not met, crime in the land is not punished, the people are heavily taxed, and so the matter goes. Would it not have been far better to have given this scoundrel thirty-nine lashes and turned him loose? Facts and figures show that county jails do not deter the thief from stealing, and should we not adopt some other remedy—the whipping post? Corporeal punishment would be dreaded, and is what the perpetrators of infamous crimes should be made to feel.

One Advantage of Being Without Credit.

Vicksburg Herald.

It is a true saying that it is ill wind that blows blows nobody good. The imputation against the credit of Mississippi was a shield to her when the sparm of thieves were placed in power over her. While her sister, Louisiana, is groaning under a tremendous weight of obligations, Mississippi, the state with a bad name and no credit, is out of debt, and her treasury warrants are at par. The Southern Radicals stole even the credit of the other States.

North Carolina Railroads.

"Gath" in Cincinnati Enquirer.

North Carolina has, in effect, three railroad lines East and West and three North and South. The railroad from Wilmington to Charlotte, recently finished, 241 miles long, reaching to the western mountains. The railroad from the coast at Morehead or Newbern to Salem, in the western moustains, is 250 miles long. The line from Portsmouth, Va., which skirts the northern boundary to Clarksville, is 140 miles long. These lines are crossed by the Piedmont Air Line, 150 miles in North Carolina; by the Raleigh Line, 150 miles, and by the Wilmington Line, more than 200 miles. There is also a mountain railroad, designed to cross the Alleghanies to Knoxville, opened west from Salisbury 114 miles, with a short cut of forty-seven miles to Charlotte. By building less than thirty miles along the Great Pedee River, from Hamlet to Cheraw, Raleigh would only be a night's ride from Charleston, S. C., and the most direct route would be opened from Richmond to Charleston. By building acros fifty miles of gap the North Carolina railroads would connect with the Lynchburg and Chattanooga line, over a road already built in East Tennessee, called the Cincinnati, Cumberland Gap and Charleston Railroad, thirty-nine miles long. There is already a piece of railroad, forty miles long, west from Knoxville, called the Knoxville and Ohio, that will some day connect with the Cincinnati Southern.

THE ALLEGHANY WILDERNESS.

A yawning solitude exists almost from Lexington, Kentucky, to Salisbury, North Carolina, a distance of nearly 250 miles. The central spot of this death place, almost unvisited by railroads, is at Bristol, Tennessee. The nearest point of any existing continuous railroad approaching this region from the west is at Lexington, Kentucky, only 140 miles south-east from Louisville, and there is a gap of 125 miles, air line, between it and the nearest connection to Knoxville.

NORTH CAROLINA MINES AND MEN.

The wild country of which I speak contains the coal, copper, timber, gold and iron of the South, which ought not to be many years in coming to market. The destiny of that region is to be inhabited by foreigners—Irish, Welsh, Germans and Belgians. The manufacturing towns of North Carolina will probably be in the West, as Charlotte and Salisbury and Greensboro.

With 1,400 miles of railroad already opened, and Western and Southern connections nearly finished, the orderly and industrious State of North Carolina bids fair to become the Indiana of the South. She is the only Southern State which can furnish in abundance, and at low wages, native manufacturing and mining labor, similar to that which existed around the mining fields of Pennsylvania. North Carolina has also, the greatest altitudes in the South, such as the Black Mountain, Grandfather Mountain and Mount Mitchell, which are higher than Mount Washington or any other peak in the Appalachian Range. Good order and modesty will ultimately get her a summer population. As long ago as 1827 Colonel William Byrd, of Virginia, laying out the North Carolina line, wrote: "The borderers have a heart as hard as flint, for if their land was taken in Virginia they chose much rather to belong to Carolina, where they pay no tribute to God or Cæsar."

Gold was found in North Carolina by a little boy in 1799, the year Washington died, and in Cabarrus County on creeks of the Yddkin River. In 1851 veins of gold and quartz were discovered. At Salisbury, in the gold region, Andrew Jackson studied law."

Our Industrial Condition.

Springfield Republican.

Our industrial condition to-day is very substantially encouraging, almost brilliantly so in comparison with that of the other leading powers of the world. England, after two or three years of dull trade and balances heavily accumulating against her, has been going steadily into darker and darker gloom in the past six months, and the London Times this New Year's morning sees no encouragement in the future. Industrial depression there is attended by want and distress of the keenest description. In Germany, Bismarck proposes a return to the protective tariff, a measure of defense against England. Switzerland, also, is agitated by similar propositions, and murmurs are loud even in England that retaliatory duties are not placed upon American productions. It is neither Christian nor statesman-like to rejoice at the misfortunes of other nations, but it is not improper to regard these circumstances as indicative of the great opportunity of development now placed before this country, the expansion of our foreign trade to dimensions heretofore undreamed of and the enjoyment of a moderate and healthy national prosperity.

His Great Loss.

A singular suit, not without its comical aspects, has been brought in a St. Louis court by one H. M. Stone, proprietor of a small show, which he ambitiously calls a museum, against the Commercial Insurance Company for damages incurred in this wise: The company, while removing the wall of a building recently burned, allowed it to fall upon the roof and floors of the adjoining museum, thereby creating a havoc. Stone's stock, to term it such, was of a perishable sort, consisting in part of a white raccoon, a Mexican stingaree, a mermaid, a wax figure of Henry Ward Beecher, an image of the devil, a picture of the battle of Vicksburg, and various other things, valued at $6,000. These were so demolished that it was very hard to distinguish the mermaid from the stingaree, or Henry Ward Beecher from the devil. They were rendered so useless for exhibiting purposes that the devil, or such part of him as was solid, had to be sold for old iron, and Beecher, being of wax, was melted into candles, and so contributed, not to the illumination of Plymouth church, but of a very secular beer-garden. The devil and the preacher were the two objects Stone prized above all, and he pathetically remarked that he would rather have lost the racoon, stingaree, mermaid, and picture of Vicksburg than either one of these. He said that the first thing his patrons always wanted to see was Beecher, and then the devil. The question is too complicated to be speedily decided.

The enormous sale of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has had the effect of bringing out numerous similar remedies; but the people are not so easily induced to make a trial of the new article, when they value the old and reliable one,—Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

OUR PRECIOUS METALS.

The Enormous Yield of the Western Mines During the Past Year.

Wells, Fargo & Co.'s annual statement of precious metal produced in the states and territories west of the Missouri river, including British Columbia, and the receipts in San Francisco from the west coasts of Mexico, during 1878, shows aggregate products as follows: Gold, $33,956,339; silver, $28,746,391; lead, $3,452,000—total being less by $17,267,132 than for 1877. California shows an increase in gold of $2,068,000, but a decrease in silver, etc., of $1,523,000. Nevada shows a total falling off of $16,393 341, the yield from the Comstock being only $21,295,043, as against $37,911,710 for 1877. Montana shows a marked increase, all in silver; Utah falling off over two millions, but nearly one million of it caused by reduced valuation of silver and lead bullion, although Colorado shows $1,689,802 less than for 1877. The yield has been really greater, as the reports for 1877 duplicated the product of certain localities, but the duplication was not discovered soon enough to be corrected in the statement for that year. The production by states and territories is as follows: California, $18,920,461; Nevada, $35,181,919; Oregon, $1,213,824; Washington, $73 311; Idaho, $1,868,121; Montana, $9,763,640; Utah, $6,064,613; Colorado, $6,282,747; New Mexico, $453 813; Arizona, $2,287,983; Dakota, $2,215,804; Mexico (west coasts), $1,594,995; British Columbia, $1,293,460. Bullion from Comstock lode contained 45 per cent. gold and 53 per cent. silver. Of the so-called base bullion from Nevada, 30 per cent. was gold, and of the whole product of the State, 35 per cent. was gold. All the probabilities now indicate that the yield of gold and silver from all sources named for 1879 will not greatly exceed seventy million dollars.

The Future of the Negro in Politics.

From Pinchback's New Orleans Louisianian.

Now that events have proved that the giving of the ballot to the negro was not a successful adjunct of reconstruction, and does not tend to increase the numerical strength of the Republican party in the halls of Congress, we find Northern newspapers, "stalwart" journals, trying to mould public sentiment to secure the disfranchisement of the negro. Not only is it proposed to eliminate the representation of 200 000 blacks, in South Carolina, Mississippi and Louisiana, but other suggestions have been made that the whole race, or rather that part of it who happen to live on Southern territory, shall share the same fate.

These are remarkable suggestions, and tend to show to what an extreme our Northern sympathizers will go in their mad effort to curtail Southern power and influence in national legislation. Of course, we understand that their sympathies are still with us, and that this proposition is based upon the belief that we are not treated properly by those in power in our home governments. In other words, that we are Republicans from conviction, and would vote the Republican ticket and elect Republican representatives if we could do so without fear or molestation. As we cannot do this without risk to person and property, they contend, &c., because "bull-dozing" and "white-line" for Seymour is responsible for this state of affairs, Colfax. You must submit to it in any case where this species of intimidation is practiced. You must suffer. If we cannot exercise the rights of citizenship now, will we be likely to do so when stripped of its privileges? No, that kind of argument will not do. The cruelty praticed by one section will not justify desertion on the part of the other. Between the two, we would rather endure cruelty, with its attendant hardships, than desertion, with its baneful influences and effects. Cruelty to class or color can be stopped by the healthy and judicious exercise of constitutional power on the part of the general government. There must be no middle or half-way ground, however. No catering to the morbid sentiments of unity, fraternity and peace, while justice is denied and protection withheld. The black men of the South have not deserved this kind of treatment, nor have their actions merited these kind of suggestions. Our friends must remember that these outrages are not practiced because we are black, but merely because we differ politically from those around us. How very easy it is for us to stop this cry of intimidation? What a spectacle it would be to see our Northern friends lowering the 'bloody-shirt" which they have flaunted so long and well. We warn them not to let their suggestions take the form of legislation. Our own preservation might lead us to vote the Democratic ticket, without being driven to do so by means of violence. Let us hear no more, then, of the disfranchisement of the negro on the part of the North. We feel quite sure the first effort in this direction will not come from the South.

It is Republicans, not Democrats.

Courier Journal.

The Washington Republican says: "Decry it as they may, the Democracy cannot avoid the issue thrust upon them by the election outrage investigation." The Democracy have not tried to avoid the issue at all. They voted for the Blaine investigating committee, and waited for Republican officials to decide whether that $20,000 can be used for the purposes of the committee. The Democracy have interposed no obstruction whatever. The Republicans have, and they could not refrain from expressing their delight at the bare possibility of a hitch occurring in the use of the Matthews committee fund, which would prevent the prosecution of the Blaine committee's work.

ORGAN OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

The News Building, No. 6. Martin Street

Better Times at the South.

The Washington Post thus discourses upon the subject which now engrosses the thoughts of the people here:

While the West is thriving like a young giant the question arises: What share is the South to have in the growing prosperity of the country? She has lain dormant for more than a generation. Slavery prevented the immigration of free laborers; war ploughed her with its iron share; the carpet bagger and the negro, upheld by Radical bayonets, robbed and plundered her until her distress during the war was as nothing compared with her sufferings from the illegitimate results of the war; excessive taxation amounted to practical confiscation of property; Radical lies about "outrages" kept the recent influx of immigration away from her and sent it to the West; and, to crown all, the hard times came to give added weight to her many adversities.

On the other hand we find that despite all her wrongs and her ill-fortune of the past, she has abundant resources for material prosperity. She has a soil which is capable of producing some of the most valuable staples; even her "worn-out" lands are already cleared and improved, and could be restored by wise management at slight expense. She has a climate unexcelled in the world for productive purposes; she has four millions of professional laborers who only need to be set at work; she has a class of cultured and able leaders, who are pre-eminently qualified to look after her legislative and other essential needs. And now that she has cut loose from the paternal care of the Northern fanatic, has ousted the Northern carpet-bag thief, has shaken off the grip of Radical tyranny from her throat and stands erect in her independence and her rightful self-government, she will wake up as from a long nightmare, will shake herself into shape, and commence to grow. She possesses in a marked degree every essential element of prosperity and rapid growth, and will go promptly forward to gather up these results.

The effects of this transformation of a barren and devastated country like the South into one that is teeming with people and products, are worthy of consideration, when viewed in their relation to the general welfare. What has hitherto been a personal gain to a few political leaders in the practical confiscation of Southern property through onerous taxation and the piling up of fabulous State debts, has been a loss to the public in just the extent that it has reduced the value of that property for National taxation. The loss will be restored, and the South will be enabled to pay her share of the National expenses. Another effect will be the creation of a home market for Northern manufactures and products such as the South never has been before [illegible] years [illegible]

Specie Resumption.

After seventeen years of suspension the Government resumed specie payments on the 1st of January, 1879. The Resumption act passed January, 1875, provides in brief:

1. On and after January 1, 1879 the secretary of the treasury shall redeem in coins the United States legal tender notes then outstanding.
2. This redemption shall take place on the presentation of such legal tenders in sums of not less than $50.
3. The place of redemption is at the office of the assistant treasurer of the United States in the city of New York.
4. The redemption will be in either gold or silver, as the holder of the legal tenders desires, subject to the option of the government to pay in either metal.
5. The amount of these legal tenders is now $345,681,016.
6. The legal tender shall not be destroyed, retired or cancelled, but shall be kept in circulation.
7. The act does not apply to the circulation of the national banks. Their notes are still redeemed in United States notes at the counters of the banks issuing them.

Anent this question the New York Nation observes:

"The government has entered on the performance of an entirely new function—that of a bank of issue, which is, we believe, a novelty in the history of finance. It is enough for the present to say that if specie payments be maintained even for three months, in company with a continuance of the improvement in business which everybody acknowledges, it will ruin utterly the argument of impracticability, which is the strongest the opponents of resumption have had to offer. Whatever may be the dangers which, after three months of resumption may be still ahead, owing either to the possibility of a turn in the balance of trade or the increasing abundance of silver, people will refuse to trouble their heads about them, and will settle down into the belief that the Treasury will for ever hereafter pay one hundred cents on the dollar, and they will insensibly adapt their business and their way of thinking on all business matters to this belief. Contracts and transactions of all sorts will grow up on it, and thus create a powerful body of influence against any other change, which will be very effective in preventing any other change, just as the growth of transactions on the irredeemable currency created a powerful body of influence hostile to resumption, which furnished a strong obstacle to resumption. The way in which business is reviving, too, is likely to prove very favorable to the growth of steady and sound views about the currency. The revival does not really consist, according to all the best accounts, in a great increase of demand for commodities so much as in a restoration of confidence between dealers—that is to say, sellers have again begun to believe that they can safely give credit to buyers, have begun to show the caution which is one of the most marked characteristics of men who mean to pay what they promise. The speculative class, who were heavily encumbered with the debris of the good old times before the panic, and who really furnished the strongest element to the inflationist agitation, have been almost entirely ruined and have disappeared from the markets. Inflation now would come too late to save them. Even two years ago a good many of them were still struggling and clamoring for relief, but few if any now survive. In short, in the figurative slang of the street, "we have touched bottom," or rather "we have been walking on the bottom for some time." So that those whose rise will now begin, and whose opinions about financial matters will be most powerful during the next ten years, are either steady-going persons who have, through their prudence, avoided shipwreck during the last ten years, or beginners who start with the lessons of disaster fresh in their minds. Both classes will be opposed to speculative finance and to a fluctuating currency. Though last not least, resumption will have the support of that readiness to accept accomplished facts which forms so prominent a feature in the American temperament, and works such wonders in American politics. There is no country in which so little time is spent in vain regrets, and in which it is so hard to get up a movement in favor of undoing the done, and in which there is so little interest in the things that might have been. It is this which has really proved the greatest difficulty in the way of the opponents of the Resumption Act since its passage; and it will prove a still greater in the way of those who will still sigh for irredeemable paper."

By exercising true wisdom the Legislature will adjust and compromise the State debt. By practicing the severe economy advocated by the News it will save enough to pay off the debt in a few years.

Vegetine

Kidney Complaints.

Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder &c., are always unpleasant, and at times they become the most distressing and dangerous diseases that can affect the human system. Most diseases of the Kidneys arise from impurities in the blood, causing humors which settle on these parts. Vegetine excels any known remedy in the world for cleansing and purifying the blood, thereby causing a healthy action to all the organs of the body.

THE MILITIA.

A Plan for the Organization of the Militia--How the Army Bill Will Be Fought.

In connection with the army reorganization bill, when it comes up for consideration, it is understood that amendments will be offered designed to perfect the thorough organization of the militia of the States. This is a matter which has been actively agitated in one or the other branches of Congress for a number of years, and on several occasions bills in aid of this purpose and making large appropriations have been introduced.

The point has been made that it was one of the main objects of the founders of the government to aid, through the government, the organization of well-disciplined and well-equipped militia for all the States. Among the propositions which are suggested in this connection is to provide for a militia force of 1000 men from each congressional district, to be consolidated into divisions and corps, under commanders appointed by the President, the brigade commanders to be designated by the Governors of the States, and the regimental officers to be elected by the men.

This would make a militia organization of about 300,000 rank and file. Under this and other propositions which have been drawn up, the general government is to provide for the entire arming and equipment of militia, and the men are to receive pay at a rate not to exceed $1 per day for the time spent in drills, parades and encampments.

There are a number of members of Congress who favor this bill in some shape, but there a good many Republican members from the North who will oppose it, simply because, as they allege, it is wanted in the South. Several members of the House say that when the army reorganization bill is taken up in that body they will call for its reading every time it comes up. The same call can be made in the Senate, if any Senator is so disposed. As the bill covers two or three hundred printed pages, such tactics as this would be sufficient to defeat it without debate.

Quarantine and Sanitary Reform.

New Orleans Democrat.

The Yellow Fever Commission now sitting in this city have very important questions to determine. We do not expect them to discover the nature or substance of the yellow fever poison. If that discovery be ever made it will be made by the experimentalist, and not by practitioners or commissions. The inquiries of the present commission should be, therefore, as we have no doubt they will be, directed to the measures necessary to prevent the introduction and a check the propagation of this unseen and unknown but most fearful poison in our midst.

Dr. Choppin, who, as President of the New Orleans Board of Health, has given the subject full and careful investigation, estimates the cost of the recent epidemic to this city at over $12,000,000. Tremendous as these figures are, they are insignificant when compared with the greater items of death, suffering and sorrow which the epidemic inflicted upon the people of the Southwest.

Two of our prominent physicians were before the commission Monday. Dr. Holliday's views against a quarantine; Dr. Holcombe, while expressing the opinion that yellow fever, nine times out of ten, originates in this city, believes that a strict quarantine may be efficacious sometimes in preventing the introduction of more active and virulent germs from abroad. On the other hand there are eminent physicians here who, as they appear before the commission, will testify, and sustain their views by the most formidable array of indisputable facts, that the yellow fever is always imported into this city, except when, after an epidemic, it sometimes hibernates through a mild winter and reappears the following summer.

Perhaps the next most important question for the commission to pronounce upon is the importance of strict sanitary measures in preventing the development or spread of yellow fever. That cases of yellow fever are brought into this city or originate here every summer there is no doubt. The testimony of all our physicians will concur on this point. Hence we find that in some seasons the yellow fever germ or poison spreads with great rapidity and virulence, while in others it is incapable of propagating or spreading even from one room to another. This fact seems to prove beyond a doubt that there are atmospheric and perhaps telluric conditions favorable to the spread of the fever poison, and that these conditions sometimes prevail here, while in many years they do not.

A Conclusion About Hayes.

Washington Post.

The New York Sun jumps with enthusiasm upon a suggestion from Boston that Hayes be made the nominee of his party in 1880, and indorses it vigorously. So do we, for it is unquestionably a good idea. We hardly think, however, it is susceptible of an immediate demonstration. Hayes himself was originally announced as for Grant, but since then has been heard at various times to express preference for John Sherman, Blaine, Evarts, Washburne and other candidates of sundry prominence. It does dot appear that anybody is at present in favor of Hayes, except Carl Schurz. If the Radical leaders, however, could be brought to a true appreciation of the fact that the party really owes Mr. Hayes a second nomination, this might be changed. The Democratic party has all along charged that Mr. Hayes was never fairly elected to the Presidency. The Radical party, although every intelligent member of it knew the charge to be true, has formally denied this. The Democrats propose to make an issue on the proposition in 1880. The Radicals cannot meet that issue in a more satisfactory manner than by the renomination of Hayes. This they will not do, however. They neither want nor dare to take such a stand. Therefore they propose to nominate Grant and dodge the issue presented them.

An Income Without Care.

By the combination method of operating in stocks a handsome income can be secured without care. Capital in any amount, from $10 to $ 0,000, may be used with equal proportionate success. By this system Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., pool the orders of thousands of customers, of various sums, into one vast amount, and co-operate them under the most skillful mangement, dividing profits monthly. Each share holder thus obtains all the advantages of the largest capital and experienced skill, and the percentage of profits is very great; $20 will pay $100 in 30 days; $250 will return $1,8 5, or 7½ per cent. on the stock, and so on, as the market varies. P. D. Drake, Esq., publisher Rock Island, (Ill.,) Daily Argus, made $104.15 on an investment of $2 , in October. Hundreds of others are doing even better. Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s new circular has "two unerring rules for success in stock opera tions" and full information, so that any one can deal in stocks. All kinds of bonds and stocks wanted. New gove ament bonds supplied. Deposits received. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y. City. Tuwf.

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. MCLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

HOME REMEDY

A CERTAIN AND SPEEDY CURE FOR SCROFULA.

FACTS ARE STUBBORN THING

TRADE MARK. TRADE MARK

(Registered.)

A BRIEF HISTORY:

The following is from the Raleigh News, and was a voluntary insertion and not an advertisement:

"Years ago an old Indian left a receipt for curing Scrofula with Mrs Person's father. Mrs. Person lives in Franklinton, or in that section. A child was born to Mrs. Person, and it had the Scrofula. The doctors gave it up to die. She thought of that receipt, that was now old and musty, and hid away in an upstairs drawer. She concluded if the child was bound to die, it wouldn't hurt to follow that receipt. She went out and gathered the herb, got the whiskey, and did as directed to the child. Her child now lives well and hearty. More than this: Only a few months since a South Carolinian, whose name has slipped us, was suffering with some scrofulous affection on the heel. He had been to the Hot Springs in Arkansas, and from there he went to Kittrell Springs. Nothing did him any good. At Kittrell's they told him of Mrs. Person's recipe and Dr. wrote to Mrs. Person if she cured that South Carolinian her receipt was worth money. And the south Carolinian sent her word if she cured him he would give her five hundred dollars. She sent him directions what to do, and added if they cured him he would send her twenty-five dollars; she wouldn't ask five hundred. The South Carolinian went home, and shortly afterward sent Mrs. Person a check for twenty-five dollars, and wrote the most grateful letter he knew how. Bless those old Indians. We would like to have one for a near neighbor."

UNEQUALLED AS A BLOOD PURIFIER.

MRS. JOE PERSON:

The medicine I purchased of you last winter proved of lasting benefit to my son, who was troubled with 27 running sores, some of them quite large, and of a scrofulous nature. In less than three weeks after commencing the use of your remedy, he was perfectly restored, and is to-day quite sound and healthy. As a TONIC AND BLOOD PURIFIER IT HAS NO EQUAL. Hoping that you may be spared for many years of usefulness, I remain, Very respectfully,

L. J. STOKES

Louisburg, N. C., May 22, '78.

AS A TONIC AND ALTERATIV

MOORESVILLE, IREDELL Co., N. C.

Being desirous of adding my testimonia to others, concerning the merits of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy for Scrofula, I take pleasure in saying that as a tonic and alterative I do not think it has an equal. I have fairly tested it, and after trying Vegetine, Sarsaparilla, Vinegar Bitters, and various other remedies, I have no hesitation in pronouncing it far superior to any TONIC I have ever used. When I commenced using Mrs Person's Remedy I was very weak, complection sallow, and now I am WELL.

Respectfully your friend,

MRS. H. T. BROWN.

THREE CHILDREN IN THREE WEEKS.

CASTALIA, N. C.

MRS. JOE PERSON:

Dear Madame—Your letter has been received, and on account of being absent from home for a week or two, have not had the opportunity to answer it. I certainly will take great pleasure in doing all that is within my power towards getting you patients for treatment of Scrofula. I hardly know how to express my gratitude to you for curing my three little children. They took medicine from my family physician for about two years, with scarcely any relief at all. I tried your remedy, and in less than three weeks they were all perfectly cured, and have never shown any sign of breaking out again. I feel very thankful to you. I can safely say that I believe your remedy to be a certain cure for Scrofula. If I can ever be of any service to you in any way, I want you to be sure and call on me. Yours truly,

WM. H. ARRINGTON.

"It will Cure if Fairly Tested."

It gives me much pleasure to be able to state that I have derived an effectual cure of Scrofula from the use of Mrs. Joe Person's remedy for that disease. I had suffered from Scrofula for more than three years, and had despaired of ever getting well. I was treated during that time by three very eminent physicians, without any good result. I then went to the National Surgical Institute, at Atlanta, Ga., and was treated there more than two months, with no better result than my family physicians met with. After I returned from the Institute I was persuaded to try Mrs. Person's remedy, and I had not used it more than a week before I discovered its curative and healing properties. My sores soon began to heal, and the color of my skin changed as fast as the sores healed. I had not thought of ever getting well again, but my hopes increased, my low spiritedness fled before the remedy, and I am now enjoying splendid health and am in good spirits. The remedy is mild as a purgative, and a strong tonic; it will heal the most stubborn sore in three weeks if taken regularly. It is my opinion that it should be taken some time after the sore is healed, to remove the cause of its effects. It should be taken regularly by all means, for I have sometimes neglected it, from the pressure of business, and in all cases found that the cure already made would commence to retrograde, and for this alone it should be taken regularly until an effectual cure is completed. Nothing should prevent regularity in the use of the remedy and it should be taken at the proper time. I would recommend to all who are suffering from Scrofula to try it. It will surely cure you if you give it a fair test. I speak from experience, and not from hearsay. I am a grateful recipient of a cure from the use of it and I am under many and lasting obligations to Mrs. Person for the great relief I have obtained from its use. Sufferers, try it and be cured, is my advice.

I am, respectfully,

JAMES A. MORRIS.

KITTRELLS, N. C.

My receipt for the cure of Scrofula has been tried by me with the most unprecedented success for the last twelve years, and I have no hesitation in recommending it as a sovereign cure for that disease and as a general Tonic and Blood Purifier. It is everywhere giving perfect satisfaction, while my experience with it is too limited for me to specially recommend it for other diseases, I believe it will ultimately prove to be of benefit in all cases arising from impurity of the blood and probably for other diseases.

A CASE OF CANCER.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 12, 1878.

MRS. JOE PERSON:

Dear Madam—I have been using your Remedy for scrofula over five months as an experiment for cancer. The cancer is of long standing, the doctors have been treating it, more or less, for twelve years. It has taken off my upper lip and a good part of my nose. When I began to use your Remedy it was growing rapidly worse, but the medicine seemed to check it very soon, and it has not made much progress since, except about two months ago, the medicine gave out, and I was without several days. It then seemed to start anew, and grew worse very fast, until I had taken the medicine about a week, since then it has not changed much. I think if I could have had the medicine soon enough, it would have cured me.

For more than a year before using your medicine, I was troubled very much with a disease of the heart, an irregularity in its action. It would miss every third beat for hours, then at other times it would increase in its action, and run up to 200 beats per minute. Since using your medicine I am almost entirely relieved of this, rarely feel it, and then not enough to speak of it. I would recommend any one suffering with heart disease to try your medicine. As a Tonic and Alterative, I do not think it has any superior. I have been using all the most powerful Alteratives known to the medical profession for the last 12 years and I know of none superior to this. I think your medicine is destined to be a great blessing to the afflicted. Let every one that needs a Tonic or an Alterative give it a trial, and I do not think they will be disappointed.

Very truly and respectfully,

J. HN BUIE, Box 141,

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Wintry, very.

——Business is uncommonly light.

——Adieu to loafing now until warmer days.

——The Week of Prayer begins to-morrow.

——Yesterday's chill doubled up darkeys like jack knives.

——The thermometer indicated a temperature of 14° at 7 a. m., yesterday.

——Fire is now kept up in the Rescue steamer every night, to be prepared for quick steam at fires.

——The cotton trade was light yesterday, but little coming in. The market closed easier and lower.

——A large brass and iron store key has been left at the News office. Its owner can have it by calling for it.

——Pastors of the various city churches are asked to send in notices of any change in to-morrow's services.

——A drummer's license was yesterday issued by the State Treasurer to A. Saks & Co., Clothiers, Washington, D. C.

——Mr J. L. Stone, one of the most successful sewing machine agents in the State, has taken a part of Fendt's store, having removed from his old stand.

——Messrs. M. T. Norris & Co., continue to enjoy an extensive busines as buyers and sellers of cotton. They make a specialty of this particular line of business.

——Commissions were issued to Capt. W. H. Kitchen, as member of Congress from the Second District, and to Hon. Joseph J. Davis, from the Fourth District.

——Mr. W. E. Dupree, in business on Martin street, made an assignment yesterday to Mr. H. J. Robards, his clerk, to the amount of $10,000, for the benefit of creditors.

——Be careful about fires during this cold snap! It is a period of danger for a city as unprotected as this is. Past warnings do no good, it seems, and the policy of inaction yet reigns triumphant.

——The negro boys have become diligent searchers after currency in the past few days. Some one told them that $500 in silver was in Bradley's store when it was burned, and they have dug up the ruins in all possible ways. The urchins may be seen working away there at all hours.

——There must be a very great degree of carelessness in the keeping of the city cemetery, since the police report that many panels of the fence are down, and that hogs wander at will through the grounds. The idea must surely not be a pleasant one to those whose dead lie there, and the matter merits prompt attention.

Settling Taxes.

Another sheriff has come forward and settled his tax account with the State. Mr. Joseph Brittain, sheriff of Burke, paid Treasurer Worth the following:

Public taxes,	$1,360.70
Special,	1,051.30
Total,	$2,412.00

Mr. R. M. Bradley.

This gentleman, whose store was lately burned, but who fortunately saved his account books, states that persons who owe him anything can find him or the books at Simpson's drug store. Mr. Bradley's loss was over $1,000, and it is hoped that those indebted to him will promptly settle their accounts.

A Lucky Insurance Company.

We are informed by the Secretary of the Old North State Insurance Co., of Warrenton, that that Company did not lose a dollar by the recent fires in Wilmington, Wilson and Raleigh, and has only lost about $2,200 in the past six months. The Company has been in operation near seven years, and will soon enter its eighth year in a healthy condition. We congratulate the Company upon its success.

Hook and Ladder Company.

At a meeting of this Company last evening the following officers were elected, to serve for the ensuing twelve months:

Foreman, H E Heartt.
First Assistant Foreman, Julius Habel, Sr.
Second Assistant Foreman, Willis Fowler.
Secretary, Jas M Towles.
Treasurer, Ed Barbee.

The Church Festival.

The bitter cold of the night did not deter a pleasant party from being present at the festival of the Person street Methodist Church last evening. It was held in the store just vacated by Hardin, Grimes & Co. The object of the festival was to secure funds in aid of the parsonage improvements. The efforts of the ladies were happily seconded by the visitors, and the result was that a handsome sum was realized. The viands were prepared with that skill for which the ladies in charge are noted, and when to these pleasures of the palate were added those of conversation, etc., it is evident that the enjoyment was great. The festival will be continued to-day and this evening, and all should pay the place a visit.

Board of Aldermen.

The Board of Aldermen held their regular monthly meeting last evening. Several business matters were disposed of.

The butchers market presented a petition stating that irresponsible parties had run up the rents at the letting on the 1st inst., to an exorbitant figure, and asking redress. The Board discussed the matter and it was finally decided to allow them to hold the stalls at the same rent, until February 1st, and that then the Clerk of the market shall re-rent the stalls of those who refuse to comply with their former bid.

The Clerk was instructed to purchase five rubber coats for the firemen; being two for the Rescue, two for the Victor, and one for the Chemical. He was also ordered to purchase 750 feet of hose for the city department.

The Board adjourned to meet Tuesday.

On Loafing.

Did many a reader of this ever reflect how guilty he is of being what is known as a loafer? Not an ungenteel one, perhaps, but nevertheless one who not only idles away very many moments of precious time, but trespasses on the time and attention of others who, mayhap, cannot well afford to lose a moment. The habit of dropping in stores or offices, availing yourself of a comfortable chair and a warm fire, has, no doubt, its delights to those fond of such indolence, but how little heed these pay, in many cases, to the comfort or convenience of those upon whom they intrude. The moments that flit by are so precious, that how one can wish to "kill" time seems wondrous strange to a worker. The bad habit has been carried to an excess here, as many business men can testify, and the question is asked reporters if it cannot be put a stop to. There is a natural desire to be courteous, and the gentleman upon whom you intrude or impose is generally too urbane to do aught else than seem to welcome you, but oftentimes it is all an outside show, a mockery of civility. There are so many ways for those unfortunates with time on their hands to pass the moments, if not with profit to themselves, certainly without annoyance to others. The doors of the State library are always open, and there one can read as often as he will without any charge. If this grow tiresome, take a walk, stay at home; do anything rather than yield to the prevailing habit of loafing. It never wins a man friends, or helps him in a business way, as any successful man will tell you. These words are not idle ones, but full both of truth and meaning, and if they fall on heedless ears or bear no appeal to the reader's eye, the fault is not the writer's.

Some Postal Notes.

From the report of the Superintendent of railway mail transportation are taken the following in regard to the distribution of mails the past year: The number of letters and pieces of paper mail matter distributed during the year, was 2 215,080,650; number of errors made in the distribution of the same, 625,662; number of letters and pieces of paper mail distributed to each error, 3,540. The report shows a very large increase in the amount of mail handled. This is due to the increased facility for distribution, the increased mileage of railway post-offices, and the more perfect method of obtaining the records; the number of pieces of mail deposited in the postoffices for dispatch during the year was about 1,200,000,000, nine-tenths of which passes over some railroad route before it reaches its destination; of this about one-third is made up in city packages at the postoffices were deposited, and not opened until it arrives at its destination. About two-thirds, or 720,000,000 pieces, were each handled separately about 3 times by the clerks on the railway post-offices. The record shows that while the equivalent to 2,215,000,000 separate and individual pieces of mail was was distributed by the clerks, but 625,000 were missent in each 3,540 distributed—last year it was one in each 2,500.

An Elegant Store.

Those energetic druggists, Messrs. Pescud, Lee & Co., who have long occupied an establishment up town, not long since, secured the ground floor of the Bagley building, for the purpose of opening a branch store there. Under the skilful hands of Messrs. Kingsley and Ashley, the interior has been transformed. Mr. S. M. Parish has done some very creditable painting. The store is commodious and is fitted up tastily. The walls are a light blue in color, while the body of the woodwork is in imitation of walnut, with light trimmings. A good deal of gilt has been used in the ornamentation, and the effect is to light up the place and make it specially attractive. The prescription case is novel in design, with a front of many hued glass. The outfit is entirely new throughout, and the shelves present a beautiful array of glass. The show cases are specially handsome. The place has now been regularly opened, and will prove a feature of this part of the city. That clever gentleman, Mr. A. S. Lee, of the firm, will be in charge, assisted by Mr. McRae, of Fayetteville, who is both active and competent.

Alarm of Fire.

At 10.15 last evening the now familiar cry of fire was heard, and the peal of the bell drew crowds out in the cold. The alarm was from the First District, and thither the crowd rushed. The firemen got out the apparatus in good time. The alarm was found to be caused by a burning chimney at the Baptist school. No damage was done, and the crowds returned. The danger from a fire at such a time as last night is something fearful to think of. The limited water facilities still continue to be the only subject of remark at such times of danger, yet the short sighted Board of Aldermen let matters stand in statu quo, and at the meeting last evening not a word was said about the necessity of more cisterns. How long shall this danger threaten?

Law's Card.

We warmly thank our numerous friends in Raleigh, Charlotte and throughout the State, for their liberal patronage this Christmas. We rightly estimated the cultured taste of North Carolinians in introducing the elegant and exquisite "Japanese" wares. Our stock has been entirely exhausted; our fine selections of "electro-plate ware," too, were abundantly justified, and we will have, at once, to replenish our store. Fine vases, toilet sets, china and glass goods actually "sold themselves." We still have numerous calls for "Japanese," and in a few days we will have another splendid lot, already selected.

Every Moment's Wonderful Work.

Every moment that we live the work of destruction never ceases among what is scientifically called "the tissues" of which our bodies are composed. Every moment, if we are in health, the work of repairing this destructive process goes on with equal pace. When the vital force is great, more vigor is given to the blood and muscular fibre than the ordinary wear and tear of existence uses up. When the vital force fails from any cause, there ensues a wasting away, which, if not arrested, ends in decay and death. Physicians all declare that when these symptoms of decline set in, the only certain remedy is Cod Liver Oil. But their patients, with almost equal unanimity, say that Cod Liver Oil is "too Nasty" they cannot take it. The only resource left is to obtain SCOTT'S EMULSION OF THE OIL with the HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME AND SODA. This is altogether free from disagreeable taste and order, and is an unequaled tonic, for the nerves and brain.
